PESTANA
POUSADA CONVENTO
ÉVORA
HISTORIC HOTEL
PORTUGAL

The traces of its former architecture have been preserved in the project by the architect Rui Ângelo do Couto.

IN

The Pousada of Évora combines an elegant design with the charm of the building that was initially the Monastery of São João Evangelista, founded in 1485, where the Lóios friars lived in.

In the heart of Évora, a city declared a World Heritage Site by UNESCO, the Lóios Convent serves as a starting point for a “rendez-vous” with history.

Its 36 rooms have been recreated, based upon the old cells on the first floor, which is accessed via a monumental staircase. Each room is different from the others, having their own character by the combination of a contemporary interior design with detail which brings unique soul to each individual space.

In the Lóios Convent, the absolute peace of the Alentejo region will seem little to you. Each stone and each antique object exudes history, in an atmosphere that brings us back to the experiences of other times.

RESTAURANT OF THE POUSADA

A real challenge to the senses.

The original stone arched roofs create a contemporary and warm atmosphere. In the calm cloister of the monastery, surrounded by stone pillars, arches and old furniture, you will taste the most refined gastronomy known in our days.

In the restaurant, you will find a cuisine full of smells, flavours and colors, served with sympathy.

Simplicity becomes style, and the silence of the Alentejo region is cut by the sound of conviviality and the sharing of unique moments. In the bar, with its marble floor, you can rest and leaf through the courtesy newspaper.

OUT

Évora is the capital town of the Alentejo region, a land of endless plateaus, strewn with olive and cork trees. It is one of the most romantic towns in Alentejo. Its ancient history is told by its narrow medieval pavement streets and by traces of different epochs and civilizations, such as the Roman temple devoted to Diana, in Roman mythology was the hunting goddess.

With its historical center, demarcated by its medieval walls, is a UNESCO World Heritage Site. Arcades lead to picturesque squares, where small coffee bars with terraces are a good excuse to escape from the intense sun, and the restaurants offer you a gastronomic trip through the Southern region of the country.

TO DO

A little more than one hour's distance from Lisbon, Évora is a charming town in every aspect with a vast cultural heritage that has been built and preserved over the centuries and which visitors should discover going on foot. Do not forget to bring comfortable shoes and light clothing. The Alentejo amazes with its excellent wines; therefore, we recommend also taking the Wine Route, a perfect example of the balance between the wine heritage and the historical, cultural and natural legacy of the region.

TO EAT

In Évora, regional cuisine is a treasure passed on from one generation to the next. From oregano to rosemary, the aromatic herbs perfume the dishes, conferring on them the special Alentejo touch. Bread, olive oil and garlic are the key elements for the Alentejo cuisine. At the end of your meal, you will surrender to the convent confectionery, where eggs and squash prevail. The Encharcada sweet from the Santa Clara Convent (Évora), the Pão de Rala cake, the Bolo Fidalgo pastry and the Sericaia cake will certainly remain in your memory.
